BUILDING TO REST ON CONCRETE SLAB

Immense Block, Re-enforced at Edges, to be Constructed on Site of the New Postoffice.

WORK TO BE STARTED MONDAY

This Plan Decided Upon Because of the Presence of Quicksand—Material to be Shipped.

In order to overcome the quicksand deposit encountered at the site of the new postoffice building, corner Third and Chestnut streets, a great slab of concrete, fifteen inches think, will be constructed over the entire area occupied by the new building. This method of securing a solid foundation was decided upon following a conference between W. C. Staver, local superintendent of the work, and the members of the contracting firm, the Callahan-Mendl Company, of Chicago. Recommendations were also filed by the government architects. Mr. Staver returned from Chicago Thursday night.

The great block of concrete will extend for fourteen -inches beyond the foundation on all sides of the building. The outside edges will be re-enforced, according to Mr. Staver, Iron rods, three-quarters of an inch in diameter will be placed at right angles with the brick columns supporting the building. It is believed that by this plan the foundation will be absolutely solid. The rods will serve as anchors and will guarantee the firmness of the structure.

The presence of quicksand was discovered several days ago when tests were made at several places on the site to determine the depth of the foundation. A long rod was sunk many feet into the ground without striking a solid bottom. The federal superintendent was notified of the quick sand deposit and immediately filed a report with the architects giving all the conditions. The work was temporarily delayed until the method of overcoming the quicksand could be determined. The concrete slab is being constructed at the recommendation of the government architects.

Mr. Staver said that the work on the great block of concrete would possibly begin Monday. He stated that the delay had given the stone and steel men ample time to get out the material to be used in the building and there would be no further delays. He is getting his equipment ready so that the heavy steel and blocks of stone can be handled rapidly.

The local superintendent said that the stone men had reported they had four cars of stone ready to ship and desired to get it here as soon as possible. This will arrive any day, it is said. The steel men have also part of their contract ready for shipment.

A great power derrick has been added to the local equipment. The derrick is driven by a double drum steam hoisting engine and will be placed in the exact center of the building site. It will stand ninety feet in the air and will have a boom eighty feet long. This will enable the workmen to pick up stone or steel at any point and place it where it is needed.

As soon as the concrete slab made necessary by the quicksand is constructed the building work will be started. The weather has been such during the winter and early spring that none of the concrete work could be started and after the foundation forms were erected work was stopped by the unexpected presence of the soft subsoil. Mr. Staver believes that the weather will now be such that there will be no danger of the "green" concrete freezing before it has thoroughly dried and expects to put on a force of men the first of the week. Some material has already been shipped but a larger amount of concrete will be needed since the new plan has been approved.

The additional work will be paid for by the government, it is stated. The contractors bid on a certain amount of concrete in the work and in order to determine a figure on the additional amount practically a new bid was filed.

MRS. LAURA V. BOLLINGER IS SUMMONED TO REST

Death Comes to Prominent Woman This Morning After Brief Illness of Heart Trouble.

After an illness of only two weeks, Mrs. Laura V. Bollinger died this morning at 7:30 o'clock at the home of her son, Elmer C. Bollinger. Death was the result of an attack of heart trouble, from which Mrs. Bollinger had suffered at various times during the past few years. Although she had not been in the best of health, the attack was not considered serious and news of her death this morning came as a shock to her many friends.

Mrs. Bollinger, whose maiden name was Miss Laura Coombs, was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John M. Coombs, and was born near Charlestown, Ind., April 7, 1850. She was the youngest of ten children, and her death removes the last one of the family. On September 18, 1872, she was united in marriage to Mr. Conrad Bollinger at her home near Charlestown. After a few years' residence at Jeffersonville, Mr. and Mrs. Bollinger removed to Seymour and made this city their home. To them were born three children, Mrs. E. L. Hancock, who died in 1909, Mrs. Mahlon E. Wilson, of Salt Lake city, and Elmer C., of this city, who, with six grandchildren, survive her.

Mrs. Bollinger was a life-long member of the Methodist church, and was always an active worker in the church when her health would permit. She was a kindly, sympathetic woman, beloved by all with whom she came in contact. An ardent christian, she embodied her christianity in her every-day life, which was marked by quiet service and devotion to her home, her church and her friends.

The funeral arrangements have not been completed, awaiting word from Mrs. Wilson at Salt Lake City, as to when she will arrive. Announcement of the arrangements will be made tomorrow.

SEYMOUR MAN ACQUITTED BY JENNINGS COUNTY JURY

Verdict Filed in Favor of R. L. Moseley, Tried Second Time on a Charge of Embezzlement.

Following a deliberation of about four hours, the jury which heard the evidence in the case of the State of Indiana against Robert L. Moseley, of this city, charged with embezzlement, returned a verdict of not guilty about 4 o'clock Thursday afternoon in the Jennings circuit court. The case was venued there from this county. It was the second time he had been acquitted of this charge. In both cases B. E. Carlock, of Jennings county, was the prosecuting witness.

The defendant was charged with retaining about $30 which is alleged to have belonged to Carlock. He offered a defense that he was entitled to the amount for arranging a loan of $3,000 for Carlock which the latter did not accept. He was to receive a large commission, he said, if Carlock accepted t[illegible]an. Later Carlock is said to have given him some notes to collect and in settling with him, Moseley is alleged to have retained $30 more than his agreed commission. A number of witnesses from here testified in the case.

Leg Broken.

Thomas McKeever, aged eighty-three years, fell down the basement stairway Thursday night at the home of his daughter, Mrs. E. M. Leyhan, South Chestnut street, and sustained a fracture of his right leg above the knee. The opening is covered with a sliding door. He did not know that it was open and reached down to slide back the door. He lost his balance and fell down the stairway. His many friends will regret to hear of his unfortunate accident.

Ed Jobstvogt, driver for a local brewery wagon, was hailed into city court today charged with selling beer to minors. He pleaded not guilty and his trial was set for tomorrow.

SYSTEM OF CHECKS IS INAUGURATED

Contactor for Removal of Ashes and Garbage Must Make Daily Report of District Wherein He Worked.

MAKES INSPECTION SIMPLE

Street Commissioner and Force Get City in Good Condition—New Contract is Effective April 1.

Efficiency and service are to be the watch words when the new contract for the removal of ashes and garbage becomes effective Saturday, April 1. City officials in the past have been unable to keep as careful a record of this work as was desirable and when the former contracts expired an effort was made to devise some plan to keep in closer touch with it. Several systems were talked about but it was finally decided that the best one would be to have the contractor report each afternoon to the sanitary officer at the police headquarters the district in which he worked and the number of loads of garbage and ashes hauled away. In this manner it will be possible for the sanitary officer or other inspector to visit such districts whenever he finds occasion to do so and ascertain just how the work has been done.

It is stated that the sanitary officer will be placed in charge of the supervision of the removal contract hereafter. Complaints may be made to him by any resident who feels that the garbage or ashes on his property have been neglected or overlooked by the contractor. The sanitary officer can be reached over the telephone by calling Main 500. Prompt attention will be given to such complaints.

Heretofore the garbage and ash removal contracts have been given to different parties. The two cost the city approximately $1,500 each year. Under the new system both

OPPOSITION ARISING TO PLAN TO IMPROVE HIGHWAY

Residents in Vicinity of Surprise Sign Remonstrance Against Repairing Bells Ford Road.

There is considerable opposition in the western part of Hamilton township against the proposed improvement of the Seymour-Cortland road with brick or concrete and gravel or crushed stone, according to reports in the vicinity of Surprise. The petition asking for the improvement provided that one-half mile of the road beginning at the west side of the Bells Ford bridge be paved with brick or concrete and that the balance to the town of Cortland be resurfaced with gravel or crushed stone.

Residents in Hamilton township who use this highway were desirous of using a hard surface material in the bottom land west of the bridge as they believed it would prevent the annual damage from the overflow of White River. It was proposed in the petition that the brick or concrete road be sixteen feet wide with gravel or stone on either side. The present width of the road is thirty feet and it is not desired to make it more narrow by the proposed improvement.

It is reported that a remonstrance against the proposed improvement has been circulated near Surprise and is being liberally signed.

URGENT PLEA MADE BY RUSSIAN EXILE

Rev. Wm. Fetler, of Petrograd, Asks That Gospel be Sent Now to Russian Prisoners.

CHURCH'S GREAT OPPORTUNITY

All Parts of Russia May be Reached After War by Conversion of Prisoners Now in German Camps.

Rev. Wm. Fetler, the exiled Russian pastor of the First Baptist Church of Petrograd, was heard Thursday evening by an interested and appreciative audience at the First Baptist Church of this city. After the opening exercises in which Rev. B. E. Robison, returned missionary from China took part, Rev. Mr. Fetler spoke of his work in Russia as the greatest opportunity before the Christian world today.

In spite of the persecution and attempts at repression by the Russian government the work has grown steadily. Mr. Fetler has charge of the work in Petrograd, Riga and two other cities in each of which a tabernacle has been erected for worship. Five or six years ago when the Czar granted religious liberty to the people of Russia, the Protestants were almost as free as they are in America so far as their worship was concerned. Under these conditions the number of converts increased rapidly. Every convert in Russia becomes an active worker either as a preacher or as a layworker. The line of separation between the church and the world is sharply drawn and there is no parleying with questionable conduct.

Shortly before the outbreak of the war religious toleration was withdrawn in large measure and conditions rapidly returned to former intolerance. A few weeks before his exile Mr. Fetler was approached by

CANDIDATES IN PRIMARY MUST FILE STATEMENTS

Corrupt Practice Acts Requires Them to Show Itemized List of Expenditures for Primary.

All candidates whose names appeared on the ballots in the recent primary are required under the corrupt practice act to file with the county clerk an itemized list of their expenditures. Less than fifteen of the candidates have complied with the law up to date and it is expected that many others will file statements next week. The law gives them thirty days after the primary to file their statements. This would make April 7 the last day.

Most of the statements are for small amounts. None of those that have been filed exceeds $200. The principal item is the traveling expense, and the amount spent in advertising. All candidates for offices that pay $100 or more annually are required to file statements regardless of the outcome of the primary.

RUMOR SAYS VILLA HAS BEEN SURROUNDED BY U. S. FORCES

Reports are Conflicting but an Engagement is Expected Before Many Hours.

By United Press.

El Paso, Texas, March 24.—With official information from General Pershing's expeditionary forces lacking, reports from Mexican sources indicated today that Villa is surrounded and may be engaged by American troops before nightfall.

Major Sample, commander at Columbus, stated he had absolutely no information of any engagement between Pershing's troops and Villa. The army's wireless is now in good working order, Sample said, but early today he had received no information of Villa closely surrounded by American and Carranzista troops.

Carranza Consul Garcia at 8:00 a. m. said he had received no word from the front although he had expected fighting with Villa to begin at daybreak.

Fort Bliss authorities said they received no word from Pershing to indicate that a battle with Villa was at hand or that Villa was surrounded.

Foreigners Hurt When Explosive Stored Under Ground is Warmed by Steam Pipes.

By United Press.

Greencastle, Ind., March 24.—Three foreign workmen were injured in a quarry two miles southwest of here when 4,500 pounds of dynamite let go at 6:55 a. m. today. The explosive was stored in the ground and was being warmed by steam pipes.

The day force had not yet reported. The night force was in a shanty several hundred feet distant. Jim Mike, a Russian, suffered a broken leg. The others received lesser injuries. Plate glass windows were shattered here and the shock was felt for a radius of twenty miles.

GENERAL HERRERA IS NOT DISLOYAL TO CARRANZA

This Report Comes on Heels of Rumor that He has Organized Revolution.

By United Press.

Washington, March 24.—General Luis Herrera, hitherto reported as disloyal to Carranza and alligned with Villa, is loyal to Carranza. He is still military commander at Chihuahua City and is not heading any revolt, according to a state department message from Consul Letcher at Chihuahua City today.

Coming direct from the scene of Herrera's reported defection and signed by the United States consul, administration officials were inclined to take the denial at its face value in spite of the many reports to the contrary from the border. War department officials frankly admitted they had up to this time feared the original report concerning Herrera was true.

By United Press.

It is understood from the highest authority that the proposal was not accepted, the Allies replying that the situation and conditions of naval warfare did not warrant them in subjecting such vessels to the risk of disarmament.

ENTERTAIN DOUBT ABOUT FIGHTING

American Army Officers Question Truth of Carranzista Reports of Villa's Capture.

NO WORD FROM GEN. PERSHING

Rumored that Bandit is Murdering Americans as He Flees from the Invading Forces.

By United Press.

(By E. T. Conkle, United Press staff correspondent).

El Paso, Tex., March 24.—Whether Francisco Villa is surrounded by American and Carranza troops or has again made good his escape from a reported trap set for him south of Namiquipa was unknown here this afternoon.

Though Carranza authorities at Juarez stated insistently that they had received authentic reports late last night of the defeat of Villa at El Oso, United States army officers here and at Columbus, were without information. Some of them doubted that the battle had occurred.

Confirmation of reports that General Pershing obtained permission to use the Mexican railroad line south of Casas Grandes were brought to El Paso today by Americans arriving from Casas Grandes.

Pershing sent two troop trains to Aguaje, Chihuahua, in an effort to cut off Villa's flight southward.

As the troops' movement was made Sunday it is believed the troops have had sufficient time to reach a point south of Namiquipa.

When the passengers left Casas Grandes yesterday for El Paso nothing had been heard of Villa's exact whereabouts. However, reports frequently reached the expedition headquarters at Dublan just north of Casas Grandes that Villa was murdering Americans and continuing his outlawry.

CHARGES SINISTER FORCES RESPONSIBLE FOR TROUBLE

Senator Stone Comments on the Report Submitted Concerning The Border Conditions.

By United Press.

Washington, March 24—Charges that "sinister forces" are seeking to implicate this country and Mexico into war were made by Senator Stone, administration spokesman of the senate today, following the reading of details submitted by Senators Borah and Sheppard.

The details told of serious conditions existing along the Texas and Arizona borders. Stone declared that it was against public policy to have them made public and that they should have been submitted to the war department.

"I have no apology to make," interjected Borah in the midst of a heated statement by Stone.

"You might have acted with greater propriety," retorted Stone, adding that Borah was "obsessed with the idea that he was running for president." Stone asked whether senators on the Republican side were seeking by underhanded means to force war with Mexico.

NATIONAL GUARDSMEN WILL NOT BE CALLED AT PRESENT

President Wilson and Cabinet Decide There is No Urgent Immediate Need for State Militia.

By United Press.

Washington, March 24—There will be no moblization of the national guards on the Mexican border at the present time. In the light of reports received from American consul in Mexico and from army officials in charge of the expedition, President Wilson and his cabinet today decided that there is no need at present either for a call for volunteers or for use of the militia.

The question of calling out the militia for patrol today was gone into in detail.

FARMERS ARE BUSY WITH OATS SOWING

High Ground Has Already been Put in Shape for the Seed and Bottom Land is Drying Out.

WHEAT IS IN BAD CONDITION

Fall and Winter Months Unfavorable and Farmers Depend on Spring Cultivation—Selecting Seed Corn.

Farmers in this county are taking advantage of every day of favorable weather to get the ground in condition for the spring sowing. In some localities oats have already been sown. The high ground was ready for plowing several weeks ago and the reports say that the bottom land is now drying out so the fields can be worked in a short time. One of the busiest seasons of the entire year for the farmer is close at hand and in a short time work will begin as early as possible and continue until night fall.

The prospects of a big wheat crop are far from flattering, the farmers say. The fall and winter weather conditions have not been the most favorable and the field of grain emerged from the cold months in bad shape. Farmers in some sections, however, are hopeful of a better crop than is now anticipated and believe that if the fields are worked properly during the early spring a large part of the wheat which now appears to be in bad condition can be revived.

County Agent Cobb has had many inquiries of late concerning the best methods of cultivating the young fields. The wheat crop is a big factor in the prosperity of this community and the farmers depend largely upon it as the profitable crop.

Corn planting will begin shortly in this county. Farmers who take the advice of Carl Vrooman, the assistant secretary of the United States Department of Agriculture, will test every ear of corn this year before they plant it. The seed corn situation, Mr. Vrooman says, is probably more serious now than it has been for years. On account of the late, cold season and the heavy frosts in the early part of last October, very little corn, especially in the northern half of the corn belt, ripened naturally and at the time of the first hard frosts much of it still contained a large amount of moisture.

"Testing seed, corn is always a wise precaution," said Mr. Vrooman, "but this year it is a necessary one. Every farmer should test his seed this spring by the individual ear test. No matter how much confidence you have in the man you buy seed from, make a test and know for yourself that the seed is good. If the seed is not good, you can get some other that is.

"A number of seed men who have well constructed seed houses report that they find the early picked seed tests very satisfactory, but the seed picked later, even if properly dried, is very unsatisfactory. One test in Northeastern Nebraska showed 90 per cent. of the early field-picked seed to be good while only 68 per cent of the crib-selected seed germinated. In many sections of northern Iowa and Illinois the percentage of good seed is much lower, even when the seed was picked before frost and properly dried, while seed picked from the wagon at husking time, or from the crib is practically worthless as seed. One reason for this is that many farmers in this section are raising cornof a verylarge variety which requires a full growing season, and this corn did not ripen before the early frosts.

"Under these circumstances, testing each ear is simply good insurance. One ear of corn will produce about five bushels—if all the grains grow. With corn at 60 cents a bushel, finding a dead ear or an ear that will produce only weak unproductive stalks, has paid you a good day's wages. If you catch the average number you've saved a week's pay in a winter afternoon."

ONE HUNDRED LEADING HOOSIERS 1816-1916

(Prepared for the United Press by the Centennial Department of the Indiana Historical Commission.)

WASHINGTON C. DEPAUW.

At the outbreak of the Civil War, DePauw was employed to assist in provisioning and supplying the state troops. His success in this enormous undertaking stamped him as one of the great business men of the state.

In the midst of the war, when others were losing faith in the government securities, DePauw purchased all he could obtain. He believed the Union would be saved, and from his investment reaped in later years a great harvest. Entering new lines of business he took over the management of iron mills, woolen mills, and became the pioneer plate glass manufacturer of the United States. In this enterprise he succeeded in breaking down the monopoly enjoyed by France, Belgium and England. DePauw's interest in religious education led him to endow Asbury University with a half million dollar gift, and the trustees changed its name to DePauw University. He died on May 4, 1887 exactly three years to the day, after the University had been named in his honor.

JOSEPH A. WRIGHT (1810-1867)

Joseph A. Wright affords the most striking example of all Indiana's self made men. When a mere boy he left Pennsylvania with his parents, and settled near Bloomington, Ind. A few years later he entered the state university and paid his way by doing janitor service. His books and clothes were bought with the money he earned while working at the brick-yard. After supporting himself for two years at the university, he read law under Judge Hester and was admitted to the bar before he was twenty years old. He began practising in Rushville and in 1833 was elected to the legislature. In 1840 he was a member of the state senate, and three years later was elected to congress. In 1849 he defeated John A. Matson for the governorship and was re-elected in 1852. During his term of office, the constitution under which Indiana citizens now live, was adopted. The state agricultural society was formed, and Governor Wright was chosen as its first president. With him agriculture was a "hobby" and he took great pride in the work of the society.

THE GREAT KIDNEY MEDICINE FULFILLS ITS MISSION

I was afflicted with bladder trouble. I suffered such great pain that the doctor had to take my urine. After the doctor had treated me for two weeks, I did not get any better. Remembering that a few doses of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root completely relieved my mother-in-law, after all the doctors who were called on her case had failed to do her any good, I asked my husband to get me a bottle of Swamp-Root, which he did, and I took it and threw the doctors' preparations away, because immediately after I started taking Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root I was greatly relieved. My husband was so pleased he said I should take one dozen bottles of Swamp-Root, but by the time I had taken seven bottles I was completely restored to health. That was six years ago and I have not taken any medicine since. My weight is 195 pounds, have three children, do my own work in a house of twelve rooms, and keep boarders.

-test the woolens this way

Every fabric we offer you in our tailored to measure clothes has been rigidly tested to make certain it is all wool—so rigidly tested that we're sure of it—we'll tell you a simple little test to demonstrate to your own satifaction:

Tear a thread out of the cloth—expose the end of it to a burning match—rub the charred thread between the palms of your hands—then blow.

Every bit of the charred thread will fly away—proving that the thread is all wool. If there were any vegetable matter in it (cotton), it would cling to your hands.

Periscopic Paragraphs.

Just An Ordinary.

Just an ordinary fellow, born the ordinary way,
Had the colic, cried and fretted,
Then was good, coddled, petted,
Was brought up from day to day just the ordinary way.

Just an ordinary fellow, grew the ordinary way,
Lived and soon was grown and married,
Then grew old, then gray, and—tarried—
Till he died one winter day, just the ordinary way.

Just an ordinary fellow, wasn't brilliant any way;
No one ever said, "He's witty";
No one thought him great—the pity!
Wasn't rich, but lived his day, in the ordinary way.

Just an ordinary fellow—why did thousands love him, pray?
Just because he'd won them gently
By his quiet love intently,
He had won them day by day, just the ordinary way.

were awarded to the same contractor. The bid of Anderson Stradley was accepted. He offered to do the work for $149 a month or $250 more than had been paid for the same work previously.

In view of the increased amount that is paid the city officials and the council believes that the work ought to be done more satisfactorily than in the past. During the last year many complaints have been made concerning the manner in which the ashes were hauled away. Stradley was required to give approved bond for $500 for faithful performance of service.

It is understood that the new contractor will have two teams at work throughout the year and at some seasons will engage at least one extra team. During the summer months practically all the time of the two teams will be required to remove the garbage. At that season of the year there are few ashes to be hauled away. During the winter months the situation is reversed. In the early fall and late spring months it may be necessary to have extra teams at work.

The new contractor will take over the work with the city in a good condition. The street commissioner and his force of men have been instructed to remove all ashes between this time and the first of April when the new contractors takes over the work. This plan was decided upon because under the former arrangement the ashes had been allowed to accumulate to such an extent that it was believed it would be unfair to compel Stradley to do this extra work which he had not anticipated.

City officials and the council believe that the new system, especially since the plans of daily checks has been approved, will be far more satisfactory than any that has been attempted here. Residents are reminded that the contractor is not required to accept garbage which contains glass, in cans or other such debris.

DINNER COSTING $150 A PLATE GIVEN FOR WALLICK

Former Proprietor of New Lynn Hotel is Honor Guest at Expenisve Banquet in New York.

Louis C. Wallick, formerly proprietor of the New Lynn Hotel, was recently the guest of honor at a dinner party in New York City, and the unusual feature about the affair was that the dinner cost $150 a plate. It was given to mark the close of a successful season. Mr. Wallick is the owner of large hotels in New York, Toledo and Chicago. It was under his management that the many improvements were made at the local hotel.

A dispatch from New York has the following to say of the dinner:

A dinner costing $150 a plate, it is said, was given in the Presidential suite of the Baltimore last night in honor of Louis C. Wallick, by John McE. Bowman and other business men, to mark the close of the successful winter season. Mr. Bowman sent the invitations out several days ago, it was said, and many of the twenty-five diners came from other cities.

Saying that the dinner was private, Mr. Bowman refused to give out a menu last night, nor would he give out the complete list of guests. It was said that when a dinner costs $150 a plate only a small part of that amount is spent for things to eat. A dinner costing more than $250 a plate was served in the Savoy, in London, a few years ago, one man said in speaking of the Biltmore party, but the proportion spent for eatables was small.

At the end of the dinner a silver punch bowl, inscribed with his name, was presented to Mr. Wallick, and 25 women guests came in to hear the speeches.

The guests included Mr. Bowman, Mr. Wallick, Samuel Elias, Charles Thorley, Fredrick A. Reed, C. L. Fox, A. H. Page, Frank Williams, "Diamond Jim" Brady, Anthony E. Stilger and A. L. Wallick, of Toledo.

Mrs. Margaret Richards, West Tipton street, remains in a serious condition. She has been confined to her bed for some time with liver trouble.

SOCIAL EVENTS

MISSIONARY MEETING.

The union mission meeting composed of all the women's missionary societies of Seymour was held at the Presbyterian church Thursday afternoon. Mrs. T. A. Mott presided. The opening devotional service was led by Mrs. Harry Bobb and during the afternoon solos were rendered by Misses Julia Kerkhof and Alice Oesting. Mr. and Mrs. B. E. Robison, returned missionaries from China, made the addresses. Mrs. Robison spoke of the home life of the Chinese. Illustrating this she provided native Chinese costumes which were worn by Mrs. Albert Meseke and daughter, Catherine, and by Roger Billings. These showed how the mothers and the children in China dress. Following this Mr. Robison spoke of general conditions in China, especially with reference to the school work at Ningpo. Both addresses were very interesting and were heard with close attention. After the addresses refreshments were served by the Presbyterian ladies in the Sunday School room of the church and a very pleasant social hour followed the program.

NIGHT SESSION ORDERED

Attorneys Ask More Time In Hinshaw Trial.

Noblesville, Ind., March 24.—Another night session of the Hamilton circuit court will be held Friday in an effort to complete the arguments on a motion made by the defense in the trial of E. M. Hinshaw, former vice president of the Farmers and Merchants' bank at Cicero, to strike out all evidence so far presented in Hinshaw's trial on the charge of conspiring to defraud the depositors in the bank.

The testimony of Robert C. Houston, state bank examiner, was concluded, Houston testified the state auditor had originated an ingenious scheme to prevent some of the banks in Hamilton county from lending security to each other at the time the bank examiners called, to put up a good appearance of solvency.

It was agreed that the Indiana State bank of Indianapolis, the Cicero bank and the Peoples' State bank of Arcadia should all be examined on the same day. Hinshaw was interested in all of these properties. The plan was carried out, Houston testified.

The Secret of Success.

"There has been altogether too much talk about the secret of success,' says Dr. Russell H. Conwell in the April American Magazine. "Success has no secret. Her voice is forever ringing through the marketplace and crying in the wilderness, and the burden of her cry is one word—will. Any normal young man who hears and heeds that cry is equipped fully to climb to the very heights of life."

Make Your Savings Earn Money

The Cooperative Building and Loan Association will start Series L Monday, April 3, giving citizens of Seymour another opportunity to place their savings each week where the money will earn steady and sure dividends.

Last year the Cooperative earned over 7 per cent. for its stockholders, and every member, whether a borrower or investor shared in the earnings just in proportion to the amount of stock held.

By saving 25 cents per week for a little over six years the payments made and the earnings amount to $100.00 when the stock matures. If for any reason it is impossible to continue the payments, the stock may be withdrawn at any time and the stockholder receives all the earnings up to the time of withdrawal.

There is no safer investment. There is no better plan to have your weekly savings earn money for you. There is no easier way to secure a home or accumulate a sum of money, than by the building and loan plan.

EFFICIENCY CONFERENCE HELD AT CITY LIBRARY

Pastor of Central Christian Church Tells Young Men That Character is Important in Success.

The greatest riches of the United States are its young men, declared the Rev. Franklin P. Smith, pastor of the Central Christian church, at the first of the weekly "Efficiency Meetings" held last night. The United States is the greatest nation in the world and its wealth in gold, silver and manufactories surpass those of any other power, but the great wealth lies in its young men, he said.

"If you succeed in life you must have the points that lead to success," said the minister. "The magazines are full of points of success. A good name, a good character and ability to work constitute sixty per cent. of a young man's assets." The speaker said he thought that the next five years would be a period of unprecedented prosperity for the United States. He pointed out that the balance of wealth is now held in this country and with the great development of the merchant marine, in structural iron work and in other lines of activity, this balance of monetary power could be retained in this country.

Before the war, the Rev. Mr. Smith said, England held the balance of wealth, but the U. S. has been recovering it during the last year or so by the manufacture of shrapnel and other war material which has brought billions of dollars of gold to this country.

The Efficiency Club was organized for boys between the ages of twelve and fifteen years and for young men. All boys and young men in the city are invited to attend the weekly conferences held at the city library. The boys meet from 6:15 until 7:15 and the young men assemble at 7:30 o'clock. The purpose of the club is to take up various discussions with the aim of instilling into the young minds the need of efficient work and preparation for the activities of life.

Rengo Belt

Reducing Corsets

Have No Appearance of Heaviness in the Full Figure

The same lines—the same mould—the same smooth fitting over abdomen and hips—the same waist line—exactly the same model of proportion as in the regular average figure—is the result obtained when medium heavy and full figures wear Rengo Belt Reducing Corsets. And the garments will remain just as you buy them—they have the strength and scientific tailoring to mould your figure and not be moulded out of shape by wearing strain.

The principal reason for this great supporting strength is in the Rengo Belt tailored-in feature, now made famous by eight years of success. If this principle were not scientifically correct for stout and medium figures, Rengo Belt corsets would cease to exist, for it is the foundation of every garment of every model. Please note that the Rengo Belt adds no material weight or bulk, but multiplies the strength many times.

Boned throughout with double watch-spring steels—guaranteed not to rust. There are models with and without "Steelastic" webbing.

District Attorney Asserts He Has Sufficient Evidence to Convict New York Dentist of Killing Victims In New York For Money.

Grand Rapids, Mich., March 24.—In a statement, Francis Mancuse, chief of the homicide department of the district attorney's office, New York, says all the evidence has been obtained to prove conclusively that Millionaire Peck and his wife, of this city, were murdered in New York.

"Others would have met the same fate as did Mr. and Mrs. Peck if it had not been for this investigation," said Mancuse. "I can give you none of the inside details of the case, but I can say that we now have all of our evidence. There are a few odds and ends that we will have to pick up, but in the main they are now all in our hands.

"The murderer is one of the most clever criminals I have ever been called upon to deal with. He would stop at nothing and in all my experience in the state's attorney's office I was never more positive of a conviction.

"This case is the story of a man with a dual personality," he said. "In society he was a gentleman; polished, refined, educated, the husband of a young heiress and apparently with not a care in the world except a practice of oral surgery among the rich of New York. In reality he is the most cunning of men of his type. He was not a surgeon and practiced neither dentistry nor surgery, he maintained two homes, one on Riverside drive and the other in the Plaza hotel, where he lived with a Mrs. A. W. Walters as his wife. His living expenses must have totalled $50,000. Where did this money come from? How did he get it? When we find that out and are permitted to make the facts public, this case will become one of the criminal sensations of the age. But look out. The biggest of the sensations is yet to come."

WONDERFUL TALE OF AN ACTRESS

Struggled with Sickness and Discouragement; How Relieved.

Dayville, Killingly, Conn.—"I shall be glad to have every woman know what I know now, after using Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Although I am only 24 years old, I have suffered for the past eight years. I hated the doctors, for a doctor told me to give up the stage where I was playing with my husband. I had bearing down pains, my health failed me. and I could not work on the stage, and wasn't able to tend my baby or even get around myself. I was always downhearted and discontented with the world, and only lived for the sake of my little girl. The doctor said to move to some quiet little town away from the noisy city, and I might be able to live and feel well, so I went to Dayville in November. At that time I was so sick I could not walk around, and my husband kept house and I stayed in bed. One day in January I read your advertisement in a newspaper, and I sent for Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and started taking it. Within two weeks time I was a different woman, could get around, and felt so good that it was a pleasure to do my housework. I felt contented and happy, and now am the picture of health, and am tempted to return to the stage. We appreciate my health as the most precious thing on earth."—Mrs. H. L. KLENETT, Box 85, Killingly, Conn.

INDIANA MINERS MAY VOTE ON WAGE SCALE

Compromise Resolution Likely to Be Adopted.

Evansville, Ind., March 24.—Indiana miners probably will be called upon to state their position in a referendum vote on the new national wage scale as the result of an executive session here in the convention of District No. 11, United Mine Workers of America.

The probability of the referendum was bridght after a stormy day when delegates failed to push to a vote the resolution presented by Delegate John McCallum of Linton, which would have repudiated the agreement and precipitated a break with the international body.

The resolution which is now expected to be passed by the convention was introduced by Roscoe White of Terre Haute. It is a compromise measure and provides only that the question of accepting the national wage scale shall be put up to the Indiana miners in a referendum vote. Delegates said the convention will remain in session here, if the resolution is adopted, until a decision can be obtained from the referendum, so that final action can be taken.

"Mother" Jones, the "angel of the miners," arrived here, but international officers said she would not discuss the scale question before the convention. The impression was that the convention can not be concluded this week.

FRENCH CHECK TEUTON MOVE

Bombardments East of Meuse Indicates Activity.

RUSSIANS MAKE NEW GAINS

Penetrate German Lines at Jacobstadt, Make Gains on Lake Barotch Front and Advance In Galicia, Taking Botsch and Khmelevka.

Paris, March 24.—Attempts of the Germans to outflank the French northwest of Verdun have been checked, it was stated by French military critics.

Marcel Hutin, a well known authority on military matters, says:

"This attempt to envelop the left wing of the French army at Verdun is not being conducted with sufficient troops to cause us any alarm."

Paris is expecting an extension of the battle front and it would cause no surprise to military men to see a continuous engagement from Vauquois, in the Argonne, to Eparges, in the Woevre district. At the same time the Germans probably would attack elsewhere in order to divert the French from sending large numbers of reinforcements to the Verdun front.

It is declared the withdrawal of the French from Haucourt hill, which was captured by the Germans, strengthens instead of weakens the French lines northwest of Verdun because a salient had been formed there which was in danger of being cut off.

The withdrawal in no way lightens the task of the crown prince, but only increases the difficulties.

The Echo De Paris states the capture of Haucourt knoll cost the Germans losses out of proportion to the strategic value of the positions. It can be said, however, the Teutons are not wasting soldiers with such lavishness as marked the early stages of the battle at Verdun.

A tremendous bombardment has been directed by the Germans against the French positions on the east side of the Meuse. Indicating further infantry assaults against the French lines on the Vaux-Douaumont front are in preparation.

The Russians, according to an official statement issued at Petrograd, have penetrated the German lines at Jacobstadt, where Field Marshal von Hindenburg's front forms a salient. It is admitted on the other hand that the Germans retook part of the trenches lost to the Russians, south of Lake Dirsviaty, and around Lake Sekla, south of Dwinsk.

Still further south, on Lake Barotch front, where the Dwinsk-Wilna railway sector is the Russian objective, the Russians made new gains, "under heavy fire," the statement reports.

The czar's forces also made important advance in Galicia, capturing the towns of Botsch and Khmeleyka, on the Dniester. The Austrians launched counter attacks southeast of Kuslova, it is announced. This indicates that the fighting has extended from the Bukowina border, where the initial blows were struck, far to the north, Kuslova being slightly to the southwest of Tarnopol.

VILLA DEFEATED BY CARRANCISTAS

Leaves Several Dead and Wounded on Field.

SEEK FACTS ABOUT HERRERA

Washington Receives Conflicting Reports About Reported Revolt—Consuls Will Investigate—Militia May Be Called to Border Now Believed.

El Paso, Tex., March 24.—Villa was attacked and defeated at Santa Gertrudes by Carranza troops, according to a dispatch received by General Gavira in Juarez. General Gavira said that he had received authentic information that, following the skirmish at Santa Clara earlier in the day where Colonel Canos' command had defeated Villa, the bandit chieftain, was pursued and again attacked at Santa Gertrudes and again was defeated.

Villa left several dead and wounded bandits on the field, and General Gavira says 100 horses were captured from him by the Carrancistas.

Washington, March 24.—Tension in administration quarters over the Mexican situation relaxed in the absence of official confirmation of the report that 2,000 Carranza troops at Chihuahua under Luis Herrera had joined Villa.

Conflicting unofficial advices from the border, however, caused the state department to telegraph American consuls at Chihuahua and Durango for immediate reports as to the situation in the Torreon region where Herrera was last reported. Slow wire communication south of the border may delay the replies.

The accumulation of denials of the Herrera report during the day; the safe arrival of the army motor trucks with the expeditionary forces, the restoration of radio communication with General Pershing's forces and the satisfactory progress of diplomatic negotiations with the de facto government served to relieve official anxiety.

An official denial from the Carranza authorities at Juarez that Herrera had revolted was presented to Secretary Lansing in person by Elisco Arrendondo, ambassador designate of the de facto government.

No reply has yet come from Gen. Carranza to the request that American troops be permitted to use the Mexican Northwestern railway in their pursuit of Villa. Reports from the border said General Pershing already was making use of a portion of the line.

Tension In Congress.

The tension produced by the reported revolt in favor of Villa was manifested in congress. Both Republican and Democratic leaders, however, exerted efforts to check discussion until definite information was at hand. In the senate, Senator Stone, chairman of the foreign relations committee, objected to the reading of a telegram offering the services of 400 volunteers, presented by Senator Johnson of South Dakota.

Democratic leaders in both houses and senate said privately that congress was keenly alive to the situation along the Mexican border and beyond, where American troops might be hemmed in by revolting garrisons in their rear. There would be no delay, it was stated, in meeting any request for additional troops the president might make.

Representative Tague of Massachusetts telegraphed the adjutant general of the Massachusetts national guard that the belief was growing that the militiamen would be summoned for service, and asked what force his state could muster.

Some officials thought General Funston probably had pointed out that if the report of the disaffection of the Chihuahua garrison was true other de facto government troops might follow the lead and the American expeditionary forces be seriously beset. In that event it was regarded as likely that General Funston would order all available troops from the border to strengthen the lines of communication, and, if necessary, support the advance columns.

As the border patrol could not be relaxed without imperiling small towns on the American side, these troops would have to be replaced as quickly as possible and only the national guard could be relied upon for this duty.

Secretary Baker said the task of insuring the communicating lines with General Pershing's detachments and also of safeguarding the border against raiders was General Funston's most serious task. He would not discuss the matter further.

A new problem was presented with the receipt of General Funston's request for eight additional aeroplanes and aviators for scouting duty on the border and in Mexico. Department officials have this matter under advisement.

Already the cost of the expedition into Mexico and the border patrol duty has severely taxed departmental funds. It was regarded as probable that an emergency lump sum appropriation would have to be sought from congress to provide aircraft, motor transport equipment and other necessities for the army. The cost of recruiting the 30,000 men added to the army by congress also will require additional funds.

State department officials said that the amount of ammunition for Carranza troops had been greatly overestimated in reports from the border. It was disclosed also that shipments consigned to Carranza officials, but going to territory insufficiently guarded against Villa raiders, were being held up temporarily.

The navy department was still without direct word from the Tampico distract.

Reports that about 2,000 de facto Mexican troops had been seen at Douglas, Ariz., by United States soldier observers, served to arouse apprehension.

Tooth Loose?

Watch out for Pyorrhea!

See your dentist twice yearly. Use Senreco twice daily.

When you find a tooth that gives back and forth, even just a little, see your dentist at once.

He will find conditions which you might overlook. He will find a gum recession, even though slight, where the gums have pulled away from the teeth. And he will tell you that you have the dread disease pyorrhea.

From pyorrhea come by far the greater part of all tooth troubles. Unless treated and checked, it will result not only in the shrinking and malformation of your gums and of the bony structure into which your teeth are set, but in the loss of the teeth themselves.

A specific for pyorrhea has been discovered recently by dental science, and is now offered for daily treatment in Senreco Tooth Paste. Senreco combats the germ of the disease. Its regular use insures your teeth against the attack or further progress of pyorrhea.

But Senreco does more. It cleanses the teeth delightfully. It gives them a whiteness distinctive of Senreco alone. Its flavor is entirely pleasing, and it leaves in the mouth a wonderful sense of coolness and wholesomeness.

Start the Senreco treatment before pyorrhea grips you for good. Details in folder with every tube. A two-ounce tube for 25c is sufficient for 6 weeks' daily treatment. Get Senreco of your druggist today; or send 4c in stamps or coin for sample tube and folder. Address The Sentanel Remedies Company 503 Union Central Building, Cincinnati, Ohio.

INDIANA HISTORY IN MOVIES

Story Connects Principal Events In History of State.

Indianapolis, March 23.—The Indiana historical commission has approved the scenario prepared by the Selig Polyscope company of Chicago for historical moving pictures to commemorate the centennial in Indiana. The film is to be known as the "Birth of Indiana" and will cost considerable as material is to be gathered in all cities and towns of the state where historical incidents transpired.

Members of the commission held a meeting at the Claypool hotel here to take action about the scenario. Herbert C. Hoagland and Gilson G. Willetts, representing the picture company, said the entire force of the company comprising over 1,000 men will be set at work in Indiana at once.

The scenario contains a story of Indiana history from the time La Salle made his first portage at South Bend and continues down to the Spanish American war. Willets, the author, has woven into the piece many of the legends of Indiana history.

CHICKEN THIEF IS KILLED

Caught In the Act of Robbing Hen Roost.

Connersville, Ind., March 24.—Riley Stewart, age forty, who lived near Glenwood, was shot and killed by Tennyson Bilby, near here at midnight. Stewart was stealing chickens from Bilby's farm and was caught in the act. Stewart, when surprised by Bilby, ran, warning the farmer not to follow. Bilby pursued him to the fence, where Stewart turned and made a motion as though to draw a revolver, according to Bilby. Bilby shot him through the chest and he died instantly.

Bilby is one of the most esteemed farmers of Connersville township. He is married and has one child. After the shooting he surrendered himself to the sheriff.

Paul Heaton, alleged to be Stewart's accomplice, escaped in an automobile and has not yet been found.

$50,000 For Villa's Body.

Washington, March 24.—A resolution authorizing the government to offer a reward for the "body of Francisco Villa" was introduced in the house by Representative Scott of Pennsylvania. It stipulates the body of the bandit is to be turned over to the military authorities. The resolution was referred to the foreign affairs committee.

HEIRESS KILLED IN AUTO; HUSBAND HELD

Bullet Ends Tempestuous Romance of Victim.

Chicago, March 24.—A bullet from an automatic pistol ended the tempestuous romance of Mrs. Annie Munroe Clemens as she sat in her own closely curtained automobile.

Mrs. Clemens recently inherited $182,000 from the estate of her father, James E. Munroe, an eminent corporation lawyer. Her clandestine marriage, less than three years ago, to Austin A. Clemens, a waiter in the Woodlawn cafe, had resulted in her being virtually cut off from all intercourse with her family.

The tragedy took place early in the afternoon at Burley avenue and Eighty-sixth streets as Mr. and Mrs. Clemens, were returning from a motor trip to Wolf Lake, Ind.

Clemens, who is employed at the cafe, was promptly taken into custody by the police. At a nearby morgue he stood over his wife's body and faced the angry questioning of her brother, Edward Munroe, a real estate dealer at 137 South LaSalle street. Then he was taken to the South Chicago police station and locked up to await the investigation demanded by the brother and the coroner's inquest.

Clemens' story to Captain Max Nootbaar, corroborated by a man who said he stood at the waiter's side when the shooting occurred, was that his wife's death was a case either of accident or suicide. He appeared cool and little affected by the events of the day.

A policeman who was near enough to hear the shot said that, when he ran up, he found the pistol still clutched in Mrs. Clemens' death grip. He added that he did not believe it possible for Clemens to have placed it there.

Aviator Chief Hurt.

Washington, March 24.—Lieutenant-Colonel Samuel Reber, chief of the army aviation service, fell three stories in his home here and was removed to a hospital. It was reported his injuries were not serious.

ITCHING ECZEMA IS A CONSTANT BLOOD CRY

The Blood Reaches Every Part of the Body Every Twelve Seconds.

There are approximately 70,000,000 pores or openings in the skin of a human body. These connect with the blood channels by means of little canals. These canals are sometimes filled with poisons, and thus the skin scales and blisters, becomes red and raw and the skin of man is like so much tissue fire. Salves and lotions, plasters, etc., do not reach the source of the trouble. To make the blood pure is the only sensible and scientific method of relief. To make the blood pure you must assist nature in the way she wants to be helped. S. S. S. is the greatest blood purifier because it is a natural one. There is not a mineral of any sort in it. It is purely vegetable in every essence. The blood welcomes S. S. S., and it quickly reaches the seat of the trouble. So great is the fame of this blood remedy that many substitutes trail along in various sections of the country. They all, sooner or later, die a natural death. S. S. S. builds up weak and acidy blood, gives prompt relief to almost every case of eczema, winter tetter and other troublesome skin maladies. You owe yourself the duty of trying a botle of S. S. S. CHAPTER VII.

A Letter From Maud.

MR. BLITHERS, triumphant, left Red Roof shortly after luncheon; Mr. Blithers, dismayed, arrived at Blitherwood a quarter of an hour later. He had had his way with Robin, who, after all, was coming to dinner that evening with Count Quinnox. The prince, after a few words in private with the count, changed his mind and accepted Mr. Blithers' invitation with a liveliness that was mistaken for eagerness by that gentleman, who had made very short work of subduing Mrs. King when she tried to tell him that her own dinner party would be ruined if the principal guest defaulted. He was gloating over his victory up to the instant he reached his own lodge gates. There dismay sat patiently waiting for him in the shape of a messenger from the local telegraph office in the village below. He had seen Mr. Blithers approaching in the distance, and with an astuteness that argued well for his future success in life, calmly sat down to wait instead of pedaling his decrepit bicycle up the long slope to the villa.

He delivered a telegram and kindly vouchsafed the information that it was from New York.

Mr. Blithers experienced a queer sinking of the heart as he gazed at the envelope. Something warned him that if he opened it in the presence of the messenger he would say something that a young boy ought not to hear.

"It's from Maud," said the obliging boy, beaming good nature. It cost him a quarter, that bit of gentility, for Mr. Blithers at once said something that a messenger boy ought to hear and ordered Jackson to go ahead. It was from Maud, and it said:

> I shall stay in town a few days longer. It is delightfully cool here. Dear old Miranda is at the Ritz with me, and we are having a fine spree. Don't worry about money. I find I have a staggering balance in the bank. The cashier showed me where I had made a mistake in subtraction of an even ten thousand. I was amazed to find what a big difference a little figure makes. Have made no definite plans, but will write mother tonight. Please give my love to the prince. Have you seen today's Town Truth? Or, worse, has he seen it? Your loving daughter,
> MAUD.

A little later on, after he had cooled off to a quite considerable extent, Mr. Blithers lighted a cigar and sat down in the hall outside his wife's bedchamber door. She was having her beauty nap. Not even he possessed the temerity to break in upon that. He sat and listened for the first sound that would indicate the appeasement of beauty, occasionally hitching his chair a trifle nearer to the door in the agony of impatience. By the time Jackson returned from the village with word that a copy of Town Truth was not to be had until the next day he was so close to the door that if any one had happened to stick a hatpin through the keyhole at precisely the right instant it would have punctured his left ear with appalling results.

"What are we going to do about it?" he demanded three minutes after entering the chamber. His wife was prostrate on the luxurious couch from which she had failed to arise when he burst in upon her with the telegram in his hand.

"Oh, the foolish child!" she moaned. "If she only knew how adorable he is she wouldn't be acting in this perfectly absurd manner. Every girl who was here last night is madly in love with him. Why must Maud be so obstinate?"

Mr. Blithers was very careful not to mention his roadside experience with the prince, and you may be sure that he said nothing about his proposition to the young man. He merely declared, with a vast bitterness in his soul, that the prince was coming to dinner. But what the deuce was the use?

"She ought to be soundly—spoken to," said he, breaking the sentence with a hasty gulp. "Now, Lou, there's just one thing to do. I must go to New York on the midnight train and get her. That woman was all right as a tutor, but hanged if I like to see a daughter of mine traipsing around New York with a schoolteacher. She"—

"You forget that she has retired on a competence. She is not in active employment, Will. You forget that she is one of the Van Valkens."

"There you go, talking about good old families again. Why is it that so blamed many of your fine old blue stockings are hunting jobs"—

"Now, don't be vulgar, Will," she cut in. "Maud is quite safe with Miranda, and you know it perfectly well, so don't talk like that. I think it would be a fearful mistake for you to go to New York. She would never forgive you and, what is more to the point, she wouldn't budge a step if you tried to bully her into coming home with you. You know it quite as well as I do."

Maud's continued absence was explained to Prince Robin that evening, not by the volcanic Mr. Blithers, but by his practiced and adroit better half, who had no compunction in ascribing it to the alarming condition of a very dear friend in New York—one of the Van Valkens, you know.

"Maud is so tender hearted, so loyal, so really sweet about her friends, that nothing in the world could have induced her to leave this dear friend, don't you know."

"I am extremely sorry not to have met your daughter," said Robin, very politely.

"Oh, but she will be here in a day or two, prince."

"Unfortunately, we are leaving tomorrow, Mrs. Blithers."

"Tomorrow?" murmured Mrs. Blithers, aghast.

"I received a cablegram today advising me to return to Edelweiss at once. We are obliged to cut short a very charming visit with Mr. and Mrs. King and to give up the trip to Washington. Lieutenant Dank left for New York this afternoon to exchange our reservations for the first ship that we can"—

"What's this?" demanded Mr. Blithers, abruptly withdrawing his attention from Count Quinnox, who was in the middle of a sentence when the interruption came. They were on the point of going out to dinner. "What's this?"

"The prince says that he is leaving tomorrow"—

"Nonsense!" exploded Mr. Blithers, with no effort toward geniality. "He doesn't mean it. Why—why, we haven't signed a single agreement"—

"Fortunately it isn't necessary for me to sign anything, Mr. Blithers," broke in Robin hastily. "The papers are to be signed by the minister of finance, and afterward my signature is attached in approval. Isn't that true, Count Quinnox?"

"I daresay Mr. Blithers understands the situation perfectly," said the count.

Mr. Blithers looked blank. "Of course I understand it," he said bluntly. "Still I had it in mind to ask the prince to put his signature to a sort of preliminary document which would at least assure me that he would sign the final agreement when the time comes. That's only fair, isn't it?"

"Quite fair, Mr. Blithers. The prince will sign such an article tomorrow or the next day at your office in the city. Pray have no uneasiness, sir. It shall be as you wish. By the way, I understood that your solicitor—your lawyer, I should say—was to be here this evening. It had occurred to me that he might draw up the statement, if Mrs. Blithers will forgive us in our haste"—

the police and asked to sign a paper agreeing not to preach in any other pulpit than his own, and also not to allow any other minister to speak from his pulpit. He refused to sign the agreement and was put in prison. Later he was charged with being a German spy and was sentenced to exile in Siberia along with other ministers, but his sentence was alleviated so as to permit him to leave for Sweden and thence to America. He cannot return to Russia until the close of the war and then a four months' prison sentence awaits him.

Mr. Fetler's plea in his address here was that America would send the gospel to the Russian prisoners in Germany. Two million Russians are now in comparative idleness in Germany and they are ready to read anything that comes to hand. The distribution of tracts and printed matter among the prisoners is granted freely by the German government. The colporters who have been engaged in this work have given out all the literature available and the demand is for more.

Mr. Fetler's view is that more can be accomplished for Christianity in Russia by work in these prison camps than could be accomplished in a hundred years by ordinary methods. The men are receptive to the truth and every man converted now will return to his home town or community at the close of the war as an active Christian worker. About many of these men there will grow up Christian churches in hundreds of places through the empire. These men going about their daily occupations would be less liable to persecution than men who would be serving as ministers in the communities. He urges the need of haste in contributing funds so that the tracts can be printed and distributed and the work done while the war lasts.

Mr. Fetler is a man of strong personality, a man who has accomplished great things in Russia, and who looks hopefully to the future of Christian work in his native land when the war has ended.

Sunday School Lesson

March 26 Lesson XIII. First Quarter

FOR INDIVIDUAL REVIEW OF THE QUARTER

Lesson I.—The Ascending Lord, Acts i, 1-14. Golden Text, Eph. iv, 8, "When He ascended on high He led captivity captive and gave gifts unto men." During the forty days after His resurrection, when He showed himself alive many times to His disciples, He always spoke of the Kingdom of God which He will surely set up on earth with Israel as a center when He shall come again in His glory. Now we are to witness to Him by the Holy Spirit.

Lesson II.—The Coming of the Holy Spirit, Acts ii, 1-13. Golden Text, I Cor. iii, 16, "Know ye not that ye are a temple of God and that the Spirit of God dwelleth in you?" He said that when He reached home He would send the Holy Spirit, who would bring to their remembrance all that He had ever said to them and take of His things and show them unto them and show them things to come and guide them into all truth.

Lesson III.—Peter's sermon at Pentecost, Acts ii, 14-47. Golden Text, Acts ii, 21, "Whosoever shall call on the name of the Lord shall be saved." While we wait for the coming of the kingdom which was postponed because rejected, the Spirit has come to testify of a risen living Christ at God's right hand and to gather unto Him all the "whosoevers" who are willing to receive Him, follow Him and suffer with Him.

Lesson IV.—The Spirit of Life, Rom. viii, 12-30. Golden Text, Rom. viii, 14, "As many as are led by the Spirit of God these are sons of God." This is the great Spirit chapter indorsing the necessity of the new birth and teaching that all such are children and heirs of God and can never be separated from His love—that the Father, Son and Spirit are all for us and that in Christ all things are freely ours.

Lesson V.—The Lame Man Leaping, Acts iii, 1-12. Golden Text, Acts iii, 6, "Peter said, Silver and gold have I none, but what I have, that give I thee. In the name of Jesus Christ of Nazareth, walk." This man, over forty years of age, who had never walked a step in all his life, is seen, by all who knew him to be incurable, walking and leaping and praising God, and Peter testified that this was the work of the unseen living Christ.

Lesson VI.—The Boldness of Peter and John, Acts iv, 8-21. Golden Text, I Cor. xvi, 13, "Watch ye, stand fast in the faith, quit you like men, be strong." Peter and John, after a night in prison, being brought before the high priest and the council to answer for the healing of this man, do not hesitate to say before the council what they said before the people in the temple that it was the work of Jesus Christ, whom they crucified, who is alive.

Lesson VII.—Humbled and Exalted, Phil. ii, 1-11. Golden Text, II Cor. viii, 9, "Though He was rich, yet for your sakes He became poor." Despised and rejected of men, but chosen of God and precious, the only Saviour, willing to save proud Pharisees as well as confessed sinners if they would only come to Him.

Lesson VIII.—The Brotherhood at Jerusalem, Acts iv, 32; v, 16. Golden Text, I Pet. i, 22, "Love one another from the heart fervently." The power of the risen Christ drew the believers close to Him and to each other, at least some of them, and for a time, but soon deceit and murmuring became manifest, and we have still to wait to see a company of believers, however few, continuing with one accord. Whole hearted surrender to God is rare.

Lesson IX.—The seven helpers, Acts vi, 1-7. Golden Text, Gal. vi, 2, "Bear ye one another's burdens and so fulfill the law of Christ." That the apostles might continue in prayer and the ministry of the Word a committee of seven spirit filled men was chosen to attend to murmurers and to see that no one was neglected.

Lesson X.—The death of Stephen, Acts vii, 54; viii, 3. Golden Text, Rev ii, 10, "Be thou faithful unto death, and I will give thee the crown of life." Being filled with the Spirit produces different results; in the case of Peter 3,000 souls from one sermon with persecutions; in the case of Stephen not such manifest results in soul saving and persecuted to death, but he saw heaven opened and Jesus in glory.

Lesson XI.—Heroes and martyrs of faith, Heb. xi, 1; xii, 2. Golden Text, Heb. xii, 1, 2, "Let us run with patience the race that is set before us, looking unto Jesus." The end of chapter x and the beginning of chapter xii set before us the great need of faith and patience; then in chapter xi we have this great list of those who were notable illustrations of faith and patience, all dying in faith and still waiting for the kingdom.

Lesson XII.—Philip and the Ethiopian, Acts viii, 3-40. Golden Text, Acts viii, 30 l. c., "Understandest thou what thou readest?" Persecution sent out preachers of the Word, and many heard and believed, and there was joy on earth and in heaven. The Lord saw one hungry soul truly seeking, and by an angel and the Holy Spirit and a willing and obedient man He brought him light and sent him on his way rejoicing.

AGED MAN, AIDED, UNLOADS 3 CARS

J. H. Upton, 64 Years Old, Is Able to Work Again Since Taking Tanlac.

Muncie, Ind., March 23, 1916.—J. H. Upton, 64 years old, a well known Muncie man and possessor of an enviable reputation for honesty and integrity, recently said regarding Tanlac, the Master Medicine.

"I have been afflicted with stomach trouble for two years. My digestion was poor and my condition finally became so bad that I was unable to work. None of the many medicines I tried gave me relief.

"I have taken only one bottle of Tanlac, but I notice a wonderful improvement. The stomach trouble has been greatly relieved and I am feeling fine. Only a few days ago I helped to unload three cars of coal.

"I can't praise Tanlac too much and I intend to continue its use. My wife started taking the medicine a few days ago, and, already, is greatly relieved of nervous trouble."

Tanlac, the Master Medicine, has proved equally beneficial for thousands of Indiana men and women. Tanlac is excellent for stomach, liver and kidney troubles, and is an invigorant, tonic, appetizer and blood purifier.

Tanlac is sold exclusively in Seymour at Carter's Drug Store.

The Value of Advertising

In the April American Magazine is the story of a very wealthy man who made his fortune through an advertising scheme. In front of a small store in New York City a crowd was looking at a novel article exhibited in the window. The advertising man introduced himself to the proprietor of the store and said:

"You have something here that is worth a fortune if advertised. I want to advertise it."

"I don't believe much in advertising," said the man.

"I'll make you a proposition. If I triple the sales of the article in three months will you give me a half interest in the business?"

After an hour's talk the other consented. Inside of five days he called his new partner up on the phone and begged him to stop as he was sold out ten times over the capacity of his plant. The advertising man took a half interest in the business, rented a five story building, advertised for workers—and inside of a month had increased the output of the article forty-fold and extended his field to other cities.

The Dealers Viewpoint

Frequently a newspaper is asked to induce local merchants to co-operate with some manufacturer's general advertising. It would get a reply something like this if it attempted to comply:

"I have built my business and individualized my store through newspaper advertising. You say newspaper advertising is good. Why don't this manufacturer spend his money where his newspaper advertising will create a direct demand over my counters for the product?"

The local dealer is glad to co-operate with the manufacturer's advertising when it appears in the newspaper of his city.

PLANS PREPARED FOR CORN CONTEST

Committee Announces Rules to Apply in Five Acre Contest for Jackson County Growers.

$50 IN PREMIUMS OFFERED

Seymour National Bank Offers Four Cash Awards for Best Results—Entries Should be in Soon.

Preliminary arrangements are being made for the five acre corn growing contest for Jackson county corn growers. The committee in charge of the contest is composed of H. C. Johnson, president of the Seymour National Bank, Oscar E. Carter, president of the Jackson County Corn Growers Association, Henry Lucas, secretary of the same organization, and A. A. Cobb, county agricultural agent.

The Seymour National Bank has offered $50 in premiums to the winners of the contest, to be divided as follows: first prize $20, second $15, third $10, and fourth $5. The rules of the contest provide that the corn must be grown on one continuous piece of ground in Jackson county. Application for entry blanks must be made on or before April 22nd. A full report on the crop must be made to the committee not later than Nov. 15. This report must include a record of all items pertaining to the cost of producing the crop, including one-half the cost of all fertilizers used, and figuring contestants' labor at 20 cents per hour, and the labor of each horse at 7½ cents per hour. The rent of the land is to be figured at $6 per acre.

The awards in the contest will be made by a committee of three disinterested persons, one of whom shall be appointed by the agricultural extension department of Purdue University, who, on or before Nov. 1, shall visit and inspect the crop of each contestant, securing data on the following points: (1), size of plot. (2) ear bearing stalks per acre. (3) weight of corn per acre. (4) weight of corn per bushel (moisture content to be considered.) The awards will be made on the following basis: Yield 70 points, cost of production, 30 points. Corn that is cut up before the arrival of the judging committee will not be judged.

The Indiana Corn Growers' Association will cooperate with the county organization in the contest to the extent of offering a medal of appropriate design to every grower who raises 100 or more bushels of corn per acre on an area of five or more acres.

The contest will be under the supervision of County Agent Cobb, and applications for entry blanks should be made either to him or to H. C. Johnson at the Seymour National Bank.
